Looking into the contents of published papers shows the topics are extremely variable. Manuscripts in the archive denote heading towards respectable recognizable publication in the field of all aspect of health. Journal articles come from variable corners of the old and new Worlds. The members of editorial board helped insuring quality publication. This kind of peer- review process for the manuscripts makes the journal, like its sisters Journals of ISPUB, an international publication of quality. The editorial board of the Journal [Olivier C. Wenker, Mohamad Said Maani Takrouri, Todd Wilson, Terry Ann Glauser, Britt Sanford.] needs to expand. Gone those days when Prof. Olivier Wenker and Prof. Mohamad Takrouri [photo 1-] restricting peer review to restricted number of editors in order for reviewing and advising on suitability for publishing, and for this process to take place. For increasing numbers of submitted articles, in short time and for more professional specialized peer review which make provision for statistical worth of reviewed manuscript.
